Watch out for CHEATERS !!!

The first thing that comes into an addict's mind when they want to use but have a drug test in their future is to use anyway. The second thing is how they'll pass their drug test. Addiction manifests itself in different ways from one person to the next. While the infrequent drug abuser may reconsider smoking a joint when they run the risk of failing a random drug test at work, that won't hinder the addict. Someone who is truly dependent on a substance will use it regardless of its negative side effects. This is when donors tend to cheat their drug test for many reasons, to retain their jobs, keep their medals, avoid going to prison, and to maintain their impeccable reputations. The laboratory and collectors have different methods of determining if the urine sample is synthetic. A collector must make an initial inspection of the urine to determine if it's acceptable or not. If the specimen is not within testing requirements, then the collector must continue with a second collection that must be OBSERVED! If for any reason the lab finds the sample to be substituted your test will automatically be resulted as a refusal to test. There are other drug testing options like oral fluid, and hair follicle testing which makes it very difficult to cheat as the collection process is always observed, we can help you find what best fits your business. Now is the time to set your company up and let us handle your drug testing needs. We have highly skilled collectors who have taken DOT certified training courses, follow all protocols to help keep your company drug free. Contact our office and get your company set up today!!!
